Hi Ben,

Good to chat with you. As I discussed, it would be great to host a lunch/dinner with you (hopefully week of June 1) to discuss the RFS proposal with investors in NYC.

I would envisage a group of around 20, and you will be joined by myself, and our refiner and oil/bio fuel analysts. The idea is you discuss the policy for 10-15 minutes and then we open for Q&A. The industry analysts are there to connect the dots between the policy and investment outcomes.

Please let me know some dates that work for you and how you'd like to move forward. As I mentioned, this will be off the record and not for attribution.

Thanks and look forward to working with you!

Andrea,

Thanks for your help with Joe Goffman for our conference earlier this year, he was great and client feedback was excellent. We really appreciate it!

I was wondering if you might be able to connect me with someone connected to the Renewable Fuel Standard? Once the proposal is released (sometime in June I believe) I was hoping to arrange a small roundtable discussion on the topic.

Appreciate your help.

Thanks Andrea!

Ben, pleasure to meet you via email. Would love to chat further at your convenience. I realize while we're in the pre-release period you're limited, but per the below, would like to explore the possibility of a meeting post release.

As an FYI, I run US Energy Policy Research for Barclays, and Joe Goffman recently spoke at a conference I put together annually for investors.

Thanks,

Tom

Hi Tom,

Thanks for the email and I'm glad Joe was a hit. I'm Ccing my colleague Ben Hengst in our Office of Transportation and Air Quality. He's the Associate Office Director and is very well versed in RFS.

Hope all is well and I'm sure we'll be talking about power plants again soon enough!

Andrea,

Thanks for your help with Joe Goffman for our conference earlier this year, he was great and client feedback was excellent. We really appreciate it!

I was wondering if you might be able to connect me with someone connected to the Renewable Fuel Standard? Once the proposal is released (sometime in June I believe) I was hoping to arrange a small roundtable discussion on the topic.

Appreciate your help.

Best,

Tom

Hi Ben,

Good to chat with you. As I discussed, it would be great to host a lunch/dinner with you (hopefully week of June 1) to discuss the RFS proposal with investors in NYC.

I would envisage a group of around 20, and you will be joined by myself, and our refiner and oil/bio fuel analysts. The idea is you discuss the policy for 10-15 minutes and then we open for Q&A. The industry analysts are there to connect the dots between the policy and investment outcomes.

Please let me know some dates that work for you and how you'd like to move forward. As I mentioned, this will be off the record and not for attribution.

Thanks and look forward to working with you!

Mr. Driscoll--

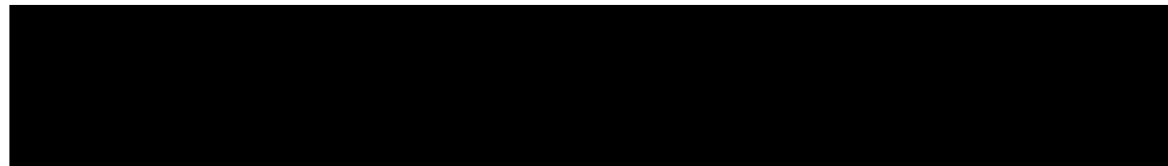

Will Niebling put me in touch with you with regards to your request to meet on the RFS. (I'll admit he did so earlier, and I failed to immediately follow up following the hearing last month -- my apologies for not getting back to you earlier.)

I work in the office responsible for implementing the RFS, and I'd be happy to set up a meeting and make sure the right folks are in attendance. Did you have a timeframe in mind? Perhaps as early as next week?

Feel free to email or call me at 202-564-1495.

Thanks,

Ben Hengst

Mr. Niebling:

Happy New Year.

I wanted to follow up and see whether you would be able to meet to discuss any way National Farmers Union may be able to be helpful with regards to the RFS. It is a major priority for our members. Do you have any availability this month?

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Thomas Driscoll

Mr. Niebling:

Thank you for taking the time to speak with me after yesterday's House Oversight Committee hearing.

I am a government relations representative with National Farmers Union here in Washington, DC. NFU is the second-oldest and second-largest general farm organization in the U.S. We represent about 200,000 family farmers and ranchers.

The Renewable Fuel Standard is a matter of serious importance to our members. We did a lot of work to present a more nuanced view from rural America on WOTUS, and I believe our efforts created some value for the agency. We would appreciate the opportunity to be as helpful with the RFS. Please let me know how we can contribute.

Thank you for your consideration.

Best regards,

Thomas Driscoll

Ben,

I'm attaching some results on RIN prices and the extent to which they are passed through to obligated fuels; we'd be very interested in any comments you might have. As you will note, that the paper is incomplete – the introduction and RFS program description aren't written – but the data description and results should be self-contained. These results are preliminary and we'd be interested in any comments from you or your team.

Separately, do you have time this or next week to chat about aircraft GHG standards?

Thanks,

Tim
